

The Leicester Nuffield Hospital

The Leicester Nuffield Hospital
Scraptoft Lane, Leicester LE5 1HY

www.nuffieldhospitals.org.uk

Getting to The Leicester Nuffield Hospital

By Road: From the M1 (the end of the M69) leave the roundabout towards Leicester and move to the near side lane. Take the first slip road off, signposted Leicester Ring Road A563. At the next roundabout turn right onto the A563 signed Leicester North and West. Continue straight on this road for approximately 7 miles. The hospital can be seen on the left hand side as you go down the hill towards the traffic lights as Scraptoft Lane. Turn left onto Scraptoft Lane then left again into the hospital entrance.

Parking: Parking for patients and disabled parking is at the front of the Hospital, immediately outside the main entrance. Additional parking is situated at the side and rear of the hospital, a short walk to the main entrance.

By Train: From Leicester Railway Station (London Road) The Leicester Nuffield Hospital is approximately 3 miles (15 minutes) by taxi.

There are regular connections to all parts of the UK. For more information on trains contact the National Rail:

Website: www.nationalrail.co.uk

Telephone: 08457 48 49 50

By Bus: Bus No. 52 has a regular service to the Leicester Nuffield Hospital from the centre of Leicester, it leaves from the bottom of Belgrave Gate or from outside Sainsbury's at Humberstone Gate.